History 144: Second Exam Guidelines

For the second exam you will be responsible for the following chapters in the Bentley/Ziegler textbook:

Ch. 24: The Transformation of Europe (only pp. 655-60)

Ch. 29: Revolutions & National States in the Atlantic World

Ch. 30: The Making of Industrial Society

Ch. 31: The Americas in the Age of Independence

Ch. 32: Societies at Crossroads

Ch. 33: The Building of Global Empires

The exam will consist of:

- 19 questions based on textbook material
- 4 questions based on Things Fall Apart
- 4 questions based on Personalities & Problems (as per syllabus assignments)
- 28 questions based on class lectures

55 questions total, each worth 2 points, but for a maximum score of 100

That is, 5 answers may be wrong and the maximum score can still be earned.

Each question has 4 possible answers. Answer all questions; leave none blank.

In addition to the names of the people profiled in the Wolf book, there will be questions on the following names & concepts:

- trade unions
- Social Darwinists
- Karl Marx
- industrialization & Industrial Revolution
- nationalism
- José de San Martin
- laissez-faire
- Simón Bolívar
- socialism
- imperialism & colonialism
- urbanization
- classical liberalism
- opium
- Romanticism
- Simón Bolívar
- Seneca Falls Convention
- women’s roles
- opening of Japan
- Berlin Conference
- classical liberalism
- Seneca Falls Convention
- US Civil War
- Haitian Revolution
- emigration
- American & French Revolutions
- emancipation of Russian serfs
- birth rates in the West, 19th century
- The Vindication of the Rights of Women
- Latin American Wars of Independence
- Philosophes/European Enlightenment
- Declaration of Rights of Women/Female Citizen

No dates to memorize (where necessary, dates are included in stem of question).
Bring half-page-size Scantron; at exam time write on the Scantron whether taking exam A or B or C. Please do not write on any of the exam pages themselves. Use a Scantron that is not bent, folded, or crumbled (otherwise the machine will reject it).